

COOKIES POLICY

To enhance your website experience, we use cookies to distinguish you from other users. A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store on your browser. This is common practice for many websites.

Cookie	Purpose
Strictly Necessary Cookies	These cookies are essential as they enable you to move around our Website and use its features, such as accessing logged in or secure areas.
Performance Cookies	These cookies collect information about how you have used our Website. They also allow us to know that you have logged in, so that we can serve you fresher content. We also use this cookie information to improve our Website content and features.
Functionality Cookies	These cookies allow us to remember your log-in history and the service tools you have used. This allows us to customise toolbars that can enhance your Website experience. The information on these cookies is anonymous, and they are not used to track your browsing activity on other sites or services.
Analytics Cookies	We use Google Analytic tracking software to monitor visitation and analyse website page usage. The software will save a cookie to your computer's hard-drive but will not store, save or collect personal information. For more information, you can read Google's privacy policy here: http://www.google.com/privacy.html .

Please note that it is possible to disable cookies being stored on your computer by changing your browser settings. However, if cookies are disabled, our website may not function properly and/or some features may not be available to you.